Freedom of Information Act

The Freedom of Information (FOI) Act is a law that gives people the general right to see recorded information held by public authorities. If you have submitted an FOI request and are unhappy with the response you have been given, you have the right to complain under the Trust's formal complaints procedure. Information on your rights under the Freedom of Information Act is available at: www.ico.org.uk.

Compliments and Suggestions

We are always delighted to hear from patients, family members and visitors who are satisfied with our service. These messages are an encouragement to all groups of staff who contribute to the care of our patients.

Many patients share their compliments with us by means of a card or a letter, but you can also provide compliments and suggestions by responding to the Friends and Family Test survey; this will be either on a card that you are given, via the online survey or by a text or interactive voicemail message you receive.

Alternatively, you can send a message via the Ask Ann section of our website at www.sthk.nhs.uk or via NHS website:

www.nhs.uk

Concerns and Complaints

We hope your experience of the Trust is a positive one, but with thousands of patients coming through our doors every year, we recognise that we do not always get it right.

If you have concerns about any aspect of your treatment or care, no matter how small, we want to know about it as soon as possible so that we can make any necessary changes.

Raising Concerns

The first person to discuss your concern with should be a member of staff, your health professional or ward manager/nurse in charge. They will endeavour to resolve your concern as soon as they can.

If you would prefer to speak to someone else, you can contact the Trust's Patient Advice and Liaison Service (PALS) by:

Email: pals@sthk.nhs.uk

Tel: 0151 430 1376

Our PALS team are available between 9.00am and 5.00pm, Monday to Friday.

If the team are busy dealing with other patients during this time, you can leave your contact details with our receptionist and we will contact you as soon as possible about your concern.

You can also leave a message on the PALS answerphone service and you will receive a telephone call back at the earliest opportunity (this may be on the next working day) or you may wish to complete the PALS web form, which is available on the Trust PALS website page.

Making a formal complaint

Putting your concerns in writing means the Trust will treat it as a formal complaint and will acknowledge your correspondence within three working days of receiving it.

An investigation will then be carried out and you will be informed of the outcome.

You can make a formal complaint by:

- Writing a letter;
- Emailing the Trust;
- Completing an online form on our website;
- Speaking to the PALS team and telling them you wish to make a formal complaint.

Please write to:

Ann Marr,
Chief Executive,
St Helens and Knowsley Teaching Hospitals NHS Trust,
Whiston Hospital, Warrington Road, Prescot, Merseyside,
L35 5DR.

Email: complaintsteamDL@sthk.nhs.uk or complete a form on our website: www.sthk.nhs.uk

What information will I need to include?

- An outline of the complaint: including as many details as possible e.g. dates, times, places and names of staff; names of wards and department areas.
- The patient's full name and address, date of birth, hospital number/ NHS number (if known), telephone number and/ or email address.
- Any thoughts you may have about reaching a satisfactory resolution.

If you are complaining on behalf of someone else, we will need all the details listed above. Please also tell us:

- What your relationship to the patient is, as we will need their signed consent to be able to respond to you.

Alternatively you may be asked to provide copies of:

- Lasting Power of Attorney (LPA) for Health & Welfare.
- Last Will & Testament if you are an Executor of their estate.

When should I complain?

You should complain as soon as possible after you notice a problem. The NHS only investigates complaints made under the NHS Complaints (England) Regulations 2009 within twelve months of the event happening, or within twelve months of you realising you need to complain - ideally this should not be more than one year from the event happening. These time limits, however, can be waived if there are good reasons why you could not make the complaint sooner.

What happens after making a formal complaint?

Every issue the team deals with is different and, therefore, some cases will take longer than others to thoroughly investigate in order to provide you with an open, honest and comprehensive response.

The NHS Complaints (England) Regulations 2009 allow up to six months to provide a complaint response. Each complaint will be assessed upon receipt and depending upon the complexity the timeframe for responding will be communicated to you when the complaint is acknowledged. Should we require further information from you this will impact on the timeframe to respond. When the investigation is complete we will write to you explaining our findings and confirming the actions taken as a result of your complaint.

You are welcome to come and discuss your complaint with the investigating manager at any stage of the complaints process and/or request a local resolution meeting.
